Washington Letter. [From our regular correspondent.]

Washington, April 2nd, 1889. The President has issued a proclamation opening to settlement all that portion of Oklahema Territory covered by the bill passed during the last hours of the Fiftieth Congress. The land thus opened to settlement embraces nearly 2, 000,000 acres. The proclamation has been nearly ready for a week or ten days but the pressure of other matters pre vented its completion. The nomination of "Corporal" James Tanner, of New York, to be Commissioner of Pensions, is enthusiastically received by the old soldiers, particularly those who carried muskets in the ranks. They regard the appointment as a special recognition of themselves. If the sentiments expressed by ex-soldiers, from a large number of states, temporarily in Washington, are a fair sample of those existing throughout the country, this appointment bids fair to be one of the most popular ever made by any President.

The only objection raised to the appointment of "Corporal" Tanner was that he was too friendly to the old soldiers. Gen. Harrison quickly told the parties who had the bad taste to make such an objection, that it was for that very reason that he proposed to make him Commissioner of Pensions. No man should ever fill the position who is not friendly to the old soldiers, and it would be difficult for him to be too friendly towards them.

The important appointments are being slowly and carefully made and now that the President has had time to show the politicians that he does not propose to do anything hurriedly, there has been a perceptible "let up" in the pressure upon him. He hears the claims of all patiently, and after careful consideration, appoints the one who, all things considered, he thinks will best fill the po-

Among the more prominent appointments made last week were Edward Willet, of Michigan, to be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; J. M. Shackleford, of Indiana, to be Judge of the U.S. court for the Indian Territory: Thos. B. Needles, of Illinois, to be U. S. Marshal for the Indian Territory; M. C. Moore and O. C. White, of Washington Territory, to be Governor and Secretary of that Territory; H. N. Blake, of Montana, to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Montana; Frederick D. Grant, of New York, to be Minister to Austria; John C. New, of Indiana, to be Consul General at London; Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, to be Minister to France: Julius Goldschmidt, of Wisconsin, to be Consul General at Vienna: W. W. Thomas, of Maine, to be Minister to Sweden and Norway; S. R. Thayer, of Minnesota, to be Minister to the Nether lands; Mr. Whitfield, of Ohio, to be Sec. ond Assistant Postmaster General and A. D. Hazen, of Pennsylvania, to be Third Assistant Postmaster General (Mr. Hazen filled this position for many years until asked to resign by Cleveland in 1886), besides a number of appointments to similar places, and postmasters, collectors of customs, and promotions in the Army and Navy.

Gen. Harrison stated in a conversation a day or two ago that the West must have the Public Printer. This has had the effect of knocking out all Eastern candidates and of bringing inseveral new ones from the West. It is a very important position and the President does no propose to make a mistake in filling it As it now stands it is thought the appointment will go either to Mr. Merridith of Illinois, or Mr. Osborne, of California. It is understood that the Minister to England has been selected and has accepted the appointment, but no anconcement will be made of it, nor will the commission be made out until the new British Minister to the United States shall arrive here and present his redentials. This action is taken as a mild retalistion on the British foreign office for its refusal to appoint a Minister in place of Lord Sackville until after the change of administration in the United States. It is generally believed here that Chauncey Depew, of New York, is man who has been selected for the British Mission.

Secretary Tracy has made a decision is to appointments and discharges in the Navy Department that has created much interest here. A clerk who was dismis ed for inefficiency appealed to the Secretary for reinstatement on the ground CEMERAL DEBILITY, WASTING that he was an old soldier. The Secretary concludes his refusal to reinstate the man as follows: "While the fact of a person having a good record as a sollier will be considered among the best of recommendations for retention in or appointment to a position uner the Navy Department, ability to perform satisfactorily the duties of the position which he holds, or to which he aspires must be a condition precedent to favorable consideration of an application for retention or appointment." The funeral of Justice Stanley Mathews, of the United States Supreme Court, who died on Friday last, was held at his residence in this city this afternoon, and was attended by the President, Cabinet, Supreme Court, Senate, and all the members of the House who were still in the city.

The President as a Family Man. That President Harrison loves his famly even more than he loves the protec ive system of this country is very clear. He has installed with him in the White House not only the partner of his joys, out also his son and daughter, his son-in aw and his daughter-in-law, as well as a fourth of a dozen young and playful randchildren. This extensive family which now dwells in love and harmony n the executive mansion will doubtless do much to lighten the burdens of the overworked head of the nation. The innocent prattle of the infants will cause the fond grandfather to forget the insinuating remarks of the politicians, who are looking for everything in sight, and who are not afraid to ask for what they want if they don't see it. The olde members also will do what they can to keep crow's feet and gray hairs from running riot over the features and capil aceous tracts of the careworn president Naturally, therefore, he is glad to have them near. Although the general manager of the ew administration forgot to say so in his inaugural address, the happiness and prosperity of this nation depend more on the family ties and the natural affection which bind near relatives together than they do on the tariff which President In the Circuit Court of said county, Apri Harrison values so highly. If, while Harrison values so highly. If, while promoting the general welfare by a wise policy with regard to foreign and domestic affairs, he incidentally demonstrates that the family circle is more delightful than are honors and power he will teach a lesson of value. But can he do it? Already, because of the pressure of public business, the White House infants have been restricted until further notice from pulling the grandparental whiskers save at certain fixed periods of the day.—Chicago News.

Over The Cataract.

When the brave Stanley and his tireless followers were pushing their way into Central Africa, they came one day, to the bank of a mighty river. Footsore and weary they quickly launch their boats and find rest and change in floating upon the smooth surface of the stream.

Soon, however, the watchful eye of the great explorer sees unmistakable signs of the near presence of a cataract. The current grows swift, tiny bubbles float by. The signal is given to land, and the party seeks safety on the low, shelving bank.

One daring spirit, however, pushes his little canoe into the middle of the stream.

We say, "No."

In Brutus and Julius Cæsar's time, in the dark ages, we read of powerful men being stricken down. The same obstacles are met. The victim succumbs to the disease. The recent discoveries of the microscope has developed the real cause of so many terrible fatalities and brought out the fact that many of the symptoms which are called diseases are but symptoms of kidney disorder.

People do not die because of the kidney ulcerating and destroying their spinal column, but because the poisonous waste matter is not extracted from the bood as it passes through the kidneys, the only blood purifying organs, but remains, forcing its way through the system, attacking the weakest organ.

The doctors call this a disease, when in reality it is but a symptom.
